REPORTS

I have prepared many reports for the family/criminal courts in the United Kingdom and over 200 reports for court proceedings within the United States of America. I have considerable experience of preparing psychological reports of a high standard. These have been used in a variety of contexts, including for training purposes.

These reports have covered the following areas:

- Public Law assessments of children aged 8 and over and adults
- Assessment of parenting
- Assessment of attachment
- Assessment of family dynamics
- Abuse & Neglect
- PTSD in children and adults
- Anxiety and depression in children and adults

I submit Mental Health Review Tribunal reports as necessary, which most commonly include in-depth risk, personality, cognitive, and mental health assessment information, formulations and management strategies and recommendations. Such reports may be shared with various services, including other rehabilitation services, hospital settings, community teams, and independent providers. I have prepared several reports for solicitors and social services regarding adults and their mental health, personality, cognition, and risk in relation to parenting.

I routinely prepare reports of Care Programme Approach review meetings, which provide an overview of psychological assessment, formulation and interventions. These reports are shared with Multi-Disciplinary Team members, commissioners, and external clinicians on a regular basis.

RELEVANT EXPERIENCE

I am a HCPC registered Clinical & Forensic Practitioner Psychologist, and Chartered Clinical Psychologist of the British Psychological Society. I am originally from the USA, and completed my doctoral training at the California School of Professional Psychology in San Francisco.

I also gained a Master's Degree in Marriage and Family Therapy at San Francisco State University.

I currently work in independent private practice, particularly with patients who present with symptoms related to depression and mood disorders, sexual abuse and trauma histories, substance misuse/dependence, internet addiction, and compulsive sexual behaviour.

I am experienced in conducting psychological assessments and evaluations, marital/relationship psychotherapy, consulting military members and their families during deployments and/or reintegration, and teaching/supervising doctoral and masters level students.

I am skilled in the use of a wide range of psychological assessment tools relating to the assessment of personality, risk of violence or sexual offending, cognitive assessment and the assessment of parenting.
